DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 9/28/05 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 53,56,65,68,71 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Meier (3416524). Meier shows (Fig. 2) a surgical repair material comprising a fabric 15, a barrier layer 14 and an edge barrier 12. Please note the intended use, as set forth in the claims, carries no weight in the absence of any distinguishing structure. Regarding claims 56,68, Meier discloses the fabric layer can be polypropylene, col. 2, lines 1-5. Fig. 1 clearly shows a mesh structure.

Claims 46,47,50,54-56,59-62,65-68,71 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mulhauser et al. (5695525). Mulhauser shows (Figs. 4a,4b) a surgical repair material comprising a fabric 34, a barrier layer 36 and an edge barrier 32. Regarding claims 50,56,62,68, Mulhauser discloses the fabric mesh can be polypropylene, col. 4, lines 37-40. Mulhauser additionally discloses the mesh fabric and barrier layer can be joined by sewing or stitches, col. 5, lines 48,49. The examiner asserts that the claimed physical properties are present in the prior art material (edge barrier) to some extent even though they are not explicitly recited. Therefore, the examiner hereby burdens the applicant to show that these properties are not present in the prior art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 48,49,51,52,57,58,63,64,69,70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mulhauser et al. '525 in view of Gianturco (5258000). Mulhauser is explained supra. However, Mulhauser fails to disclose the stitching pattern about the outer peripheral edge or that the barrier material is PTFE. Gianturco teaches that peripheral edge stitching is done to strengthen the repair device, col. 5, lines 20-22. Gianturco also teaches that PTFE is used because it prevents tissue ingrowth used in repairing sensitive tissue and organs, col. 5, lines 27-32. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate stitches at the peripheral edges for greater support of the repair material and use PTFE for its inhibition of tissue adhesion as taught by Gianturco with the repair device of Mulhauser such that it improves the strength of the tissue in the weakened area of repair.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 46-58,65-71 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 24,35-39 of U.S. Patent No. 6258124. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims are of the same scope despite a difference in wording and the patent claims '124 are of a narrower scope and thus anticipate the broader claims of this application. The flaps claimed in the patent '124 are synonymous with the claimed edge barrier.
